CHIEF STANTON SHIELDED.

The Council Refuses to Listen to Additional Charges.

LOOKS LIKE A FIZZLE.

The Special Committee Confined to the Melroy Charges.

An Acrimonious Discussion, During Which Karrik Intimates That There is to Be a "Whitewash"—Hardy Will Be Heard From.

The city council met last evening and spent a greater part of the session in discussing the Stanton investigation. The chief's friends were out in greater force than on Tuesday night, and succeeded in rescinding the resolution authorizing a general investigation of all charges.

On motion of Horn, business was taken up under the head of miscellaneous, where it was left off at the last meeting.

STANTON RESOLUTION RECONSIDERED.

Morrison moved a reconsideration of the vote that was taken upon the adoption of the resolution submitted by the special committee at the last meeting in regard to additional time in the matter of the charges against Chief Stanton.

The motion was carried by the following roll-call vote: Yess, Bell, Evans, Himes, Horn, Moran, Loomis, Simons, and Wantland—8; nays, Morrison, and Hardy, Karrik, Lawson and Rich—6.

Lawson moved that the other charges be read, but this was objected to by Morrison, upon the ground that it would virtually be in opposition to the vote just taken.

Heiss thought that the committee should take up the Melroy charges and investigate them, leaving other charges to one side.

KARRIK CALLS IT A WHITWASH.

Karrik thought the matter was assuming the shape of a "whitewash," and thought if there were additional charges against the chief, their nature should be made known.

Moran opposed the introduction of additional papers, upon the ground that he did not know what they contained.

Foland declared that the papers bore upon the resolution and should be read, in order that the council might know the status of the matter.

DIDN'T WANT THE CHARGES.

Bell asked Lawson if the papers spoken of were the additional charges against the chief, and was informed that they were.

"Then," said Bell, "I object to any additional charges being brought before the council in this manner."

Simons agreed with Bell. Evans thought the matter should be handled with care. He also thought the committee should investigate the original charges before looking up anything additional.

Hardy was of the opinion that any new charges should be considered by the committee which they desired to look into, and he thought further that they should be allowed to do so before making the additional charges public.

Lawson's motion was then put and lost by a vote of 8 to 6.

A motion to adopt the resolution was then put and lost by a similar vote.

Moran moved that the committee be discharged, but that they should be allowed to give them all the time they wanted to investigate the Melroy charges, and when any additional charges were brought forward, he would be investigated.

Horn favored discharging the committee, on the ground that the actions and proceedings that there was nothing in the Melroy charges worthy of investigation, and he didn't think they should be allowed to go on a "smelling tour."

HARDY WILL BE HEARD FROM.

Hardy stated that he had never been out on any "smelling tour," as he was the gentleman who preceded him, and if the committee was discharged he would be heard from again. He didn't propose to see any such charges covered up, nor any "whitewashing" done.

Moran's motion was then put and lost by a vote of 9 to 5.

Moran moved that the committee be instructed to report on the Melroy charges on next Tuesday evening.

President Loomis was not in favor of seeing any feeling arise in the council over the matter, but that the committee should confine itself to the charges referred to them for investigation.

There was some further discussion of the matter, but no action was taken, and it was decided that they could not go into outside matters.

NEVER HAD A CHAIRMAN.

Hardy said the chairman was absent and that strictly speaking they had never had a chairman.

Moran's motion that the committee be instructed to report Tuesday evening was put and lost by a vote of 10 to 4.

Bell suggested that a new chairman be appointed if Mr. Kelley had not given the matter proper attention, but no further action was taken.

The committee on improvements recommended that the petition of the Salt Lake Medical society, asking for permission to occupy the corner chamber at stated periods, be granted. Adopted.

The communication of H. M. Hadley, relative to being about to build a Terra Cotta and Vitrified Brick works in the city, and asking an opportunity to bid on the brick to be used in the gravity sewer, was again taken up and referred to the special sewer committee.

CURFEW ORDINANCE PASSED.

The dust was brushed from the old "curfew" ordinance, making it unlawful for children of tender years to be upon the streets at unreasonable hours without proper permission, and it was read a second and third time.

Upon the third reading, Beardsley moved that the age of the children to whom the ordinance shall apply be fixed at 14 years. Carried.

Heiss moved that the hours at which the curfew should ring at night be fixed at 10 o'clock from April 1st to the October 31st, and at 9 o'clock from November 1st to April 1st. Carried.

Simons moved that the clause providing that children should be imprisoned be stricken out. Carried.

The clause relating to the ringing of the bell was also stricken out.

On motion of Moran, the ordinance was passed and referred to the mayor.

An ordinance reducing the license fee of employment agencies from $100 to $50 was passed.

Wantland moved that the city railway franchises on the table be referred to the city attorney and city engineer for report. Carried.

A FRANCHISE FEE.

Kelly introduced the following: Resolved, That whenever any party or parties desire to ask the city council for any franchise, that before such request is presented to the council, said party or parties shall deposit with the city recorder the sum of $250 or proper endorsement to pay for the necessary printing and advertising of same; and said amount to be converted into the city treasury upon passage of franchise; otherwise to revert to the applicant.

Referred to the committee on ways and means.

A GAS REPORT DUE UP.

The report of the committee on streets in the matter of the resolution granting an extension of franchise to the Salt Lake and Ogden Gas and Electric Light company was taken up.

We believe it would be to the advantage of both the gas company and the city if this extension of franchise is granted, subject to conditions of same; and said amount to be converted into the city treasury upon passage of franchise; otherwise to revert to the applicant.

Referred to the committee on ways and means.

The above report was filed on Feb. 21, and was at last referred to the city attorney.

Adjourned.

DEEP CREEK DASHES.

Colonel Henry now insists that the Henry mountains are in Deep Creek.

George Y. Wallace was the first applicant for a pass over the Salt Lake and Pacific.

"For president of the Salt Lake Pacific, James H. Bacon. How does that suit you?" proposed a Knutsford lounge last night.

Dick Mackintosh gave out in meeting yesterday that he knew of two men who would subscribe $10,000 each to the capital stock of the Salt Lake & Pacific. How is that for high?

Wagers were offered freely yesterday that the Deep Creek road would be started within ninety days with no takers. Three weeks ago the wagering was all the other way.

"How deep is that creek, anyway," asked an unsophisticated stranger as he sat in the Walker lobby, listening with mouth wide open to the miners talking of the wonders of Deep Creek.

It is proposed that the first excursion over the Salt Lake and Pacific railway shall be given exclusively to the stockholders, and that a monument bearing their names be prepared in advance to be erected on the arrival of the train.

Dick Mackintosh is one of the most persistent attendants at the Deep Creek railway meetings, and one of the most sanguine. "The way to build the Deep Creek road," says Mac, "is to go ahead and build it, and he is leading it a powerful support."

If the Salt Lake & Pacific railroad is built after the Baconian theory, it is claimed the stock will be worth two dollars for one. When Bacon started to build the road he figured $2000 profit. Now he is giving the city the benefit of the experience that cost him something, and will turn over into the stockholders the money that he would have made for himself.

Lewis P. Kelsey does a lion's share of the talking at the Deep Creek meetings. When he gets going at the rate of ninety miles an hour he is a hard one to side-track. He becomes so dead in earnest that he carries everything by storm, even the decision of the chair. When Kelsey proceeded to announce the result of a tie vote yesterday, regardless of the chair, W. H. Rowe very politely yet effectively killed him down by saying, "See here, Kelsey, you are not at a political meeting."

It is suggested that a townsite company be organized by the subscribers to the capital stock of the Deep Creek railway, the townsite company to be capitalized at $500,000, the shares $25 each. Every subscriber to a share of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles shall receive a fully paid up share in the townsite company on payment of 10 percent of its face value, or $2.50.

Townsites companies, where they are on the inside with the railway officials, are making a good thing of it. If any money is to be made out of townsites, it ought to go to the stockholders.

SUBSCRIPTION HEADINGS.

A Mass Meeting at the Theatre in the Interest of the Project.

Time and Manner in Which the Stock Subscriptions Are to Be Paid—Fifty Names to Be Presented from Whom Trustees Shall Be Selected.

The Salt Lake & Pacific railway citizens' committee held another important meeting at the chamber of commerce rooms yesterday afternoon.

Most of the time was devoted to the technical wording of the heading of the subscription paper and to the method of electing the trustees.

Colonel Donnellan presided and C. E. Wantland was secretary. There were present, J. P. Kelsey, James H. Bacon, Judge Colborn, W. H. Rowe, H. M. Wells, W. E. Hubbard, M. J. Gray, J. Y. Wallace, Richard Mackintosh and L. H. Trent.

NAMING OF THE TRUSTEES.

Judge Colborn, L. P. Kelsey and others contended that the trustees should be named so that the people would know who were to be entrusted with their money. Judge Colborn and W. H. Rowe maintained that they should be elected by the stockholders. Judge Colborn won his point, but later on James H. Bacon suggested a compromise in the shape of naming fifty persons in the subscription papers, from which list the trustees should be chosen by the stockholders.

George Y. Wallace championed this plan and R. Mackintosh fell in with it and carried.

W. H. Rowe, W. H. Rowe, Judge Colborn, L. P. Kelsey, Fred Auerbach and H. M. Wells were named as a committee to present the names of fifty citizens from which list the trustees should be elected by the stockholders.

It was agreed that the mayor of the city should, ex-officio, be one of the trustees.

A MASS MEETING TO BE CALLED.

Mr. Wells, for the committee on securing a hall for a public meeting in the interest of the new railroad, reported that the first night an open date could be had at the Salt Lake theatre was next Monday evening.

The committee was instructed to secure the theatre for that date, when a mass meeting will be called.

THE SUBSCRIPTION LIST HEADING.

The following is the heading for the subscription papers as adopted:

Whereas, It is proposed to build, equip and operate a railway from Salt Lake City to the Pacific coast, to be known as "The Salt Lake and Pacific railway company," and

Whereas, To do so, it is necessary to get subscribers to the capital stock of said company to the amount of about $500,000, and
